- All leagues will maintain a sign-in sheet for players and guests for each draw that shall be turned in to Kerry Park Management – preferably after every draw but at the very minimum of once per month.
- All KPCC league participants, coaches, volunteers and guests/spectators shall follow KPRC signage related to physical distancing. The KPCC Lounge area will be set up to respect physical distancing measures. There should be no more than 4-persons seated to 1 table at any time and there will be no moving of tables / joining of tables together.
- If the bar/food service does eventually open, all persons shall follow distancing signage and protocols when waiting to be served.

Rules of Play

- An example diagram of ice layout to control physical distancing can be found on upcoming slides. Physical distancing markers will be placed in the ice indicating where players will stand when not directly involved in the sweeping or delivery of the curling rock or acting as the skip/vice.
- Wearing of gloves are optional during play however all personnel must avoid touching other player's curling rocks with their hands. When removing rocks from play, it shall be done so using the broom or your feet. Only the vice skips should touch the scoreboards
- No shaking hands or close contact gestures with opposing players at the start or end of play. Touching brooms with opposition players from a distance is an acceptable form of signaling sportsmanship between players / teams.
- Staggered start times should be considered by all leagues (i.e. sheets 1 and 3 start play followed 10-15 mins later by sheets 2 and 4). Minimum of 1 hour spacing between draws.
- Only 1 sweeper per rock between the T lines. The skip of the delivering team may take over sweeping the rock after it crosses the house of play T line.
- See Rules of Play Posters on the Curling Notice Boards in the KPCC lobby/KPCC website

& League Rep Meeting 09 Sep 2020

A SPECIAL NOTE (taken from Curl BC Return to Curling Guidelines):

It is important that all individuals understand that when you choose to participate in physical activities outside the home during the pandemic – including curling – you may be at an increased risk of being exposed to and contracting the coronavirus.

This is an inherent risk of participating in activities in your community where you may interact with other individuals. Curl BC considers curling to be a MEDIUM risk sport for the contraction of Covid-19 due to the colder climate and poorer ventilation of our indoor curling environments. Participants should carefully assess their personal health circumstances before engaging in curling activities.
